He reported that hazardous trees captured the attention of some especially with the controversy regarding the Housatonic Meadows. They wanted a specific process regarding how a tree is determined to be hazardous. The bill did not pass. There was a compromise for only state parks and campgrounds. DEEP, by 8/1/22, needs to come up with a new policy and report back to the Legislature. Eric noted that there will be a pilot project at Housatonic Meadows to replace trees. He reported that there were good victories for the state parks with funding earmarked for infrastructure projects. He also reported that additional funding has been added to the Passport for Parks program. Eric also reported that a bill was brought forth at the end of the session to sell a piece of Housatonic Meadow's property to a private entity. This did not get called. He went on to give an overview of Ct. Trails Day and reported that registration has officially opened. (View at trailsday.org) He reported that there will be an appreciation event for volunteers/members, on July 27, 2022 at Peoples State Forest from 3-7.

Discussion ensued and a determination made vote on this extension and funding. The vote passed unanimously. Beth also stated that the part time contractual (Elizabeth Merow) for the Master Naturalist and Master Woodland programs is extremely helpful.
